Yesterday's game between the Washington and Baltimore clubs, scheduled for the latter city, was postponed on account of wet grounds. This was the ostensible reason, but if the truth were told it would be found that the circus near the Baltimore grounds was the real cause. The grounds were muddy, of course, but not enough to prevent a game being played. Manager Manning had nothing to say in the matter, as the home management does the dictating. The Washington men were particularly desirous of playing, as they believed they were due to break the losing streak which has overtaken them. Lee is fast rounding into shape, and will pitch today. With McGinnity out of the way the Senators have a fighting chance of placing a victory to their credit. When seen by an Evening Star reporter yesterday Manager Manning had by no means lost confidence in his team. He said: "All I want is that the Washington pat-"All I want is that the Washington patrons suspend judgment for a short time. I have landed three pennants for Kansas City and one for Birmingham, and I will never rest content until Washington has what it deserves—a top-notch team. I may not be able to land the pennant this season, but I will give Washington a good ball club.

"The Washington people must not think that I will rest content with my players if they do not play good ball. They must 'make good,' or others will be secured to make good, or others will be secured to take their places. One or two of my men have not come up to expectations, and I am negotiating with a couple of players who I believe will strengthen the team. But before I take out any of my present force my pitchers must work up to the full extent of their ability. I am still firm in the conviction that I have five of the best twirlers in the American League. I am not twirlers in the American League. I am not one of those managers who sit idly by and see defeat after defeat dished up to his team. If I have any players who can't play good ball they will have to make room for others who can, that is all there is to it."

Reports from Garfield Hospital at noon today were to the effect that Secretary Needham passed a good night, but he is still in a very precarious condition. His brother will reach Washington tomorrow from his western home, and Manager Manning will then be enabled to join his team in Boston at once.

Groundkeeper Miller is working diligently at the new park trying to improve the ground in the outfield. A thorough raking and rolling is performed several times each day, and he believes all the ruts and

As a precaution against fire, fourteen barrels to hold water will be placed about the park, and two buckets will be with each barrel. The carriage ground in the rear of the left-field bleachers will be covered with cinders and placed in good condition for the drivers who go to the games. The bath room of the club house was finished yesterday and everything placed in first-class shape for the players. When the team takes its first western trip the grand stand will be painted in an appropriate color and takes its first western trip the grand stand will be painted in an appropriate color and the seats varnished. For fourteen years Cunningham, the old Chicago pitcher who was displaced to make room for Rube Waddell, has occupled a central position on the slab. States a Chicago paragrapher of Wiltse, Fred Clarke's new pitcher, secured from Syracuse, N. Y.: "Wiltse's motion is actually so strange that it fools his own first baseman, as well as the baserunner and batter. Every time Wiltse wiggled, Bransfield would hike down over the base at top speed, expecting to take a throw, and his expression when he found nimself deceived would make a stone elephant per-ish with the giggles."

If they had only attempted the same! —Chicago Chronicle, It was tipped pretty strongly at the Chicago hotel where the Pittsburg club is staying that sundry releases were written out for members of the Pirate band last night. One account had it that Poole and been given the boot. Another story slated Truck Eagan and Donahue for the un-lucky ones. There were several variations, but all had it that Donohue was to be fired. Wiltse clinched his job by his fine work According to Stallings, the Detroit club has an option on Dick Harley's services for this season, and will probably make an effort to enforce that clause of hi contract of last season. "I think at that," said Stallings, 'that we made an even trade when we took Barrett and Harley went to Cincinnati. I never saw a man im-prove so much as Barrett did during the season he was with the Reds. And I want to say right here that in Harley Cincinnati has the best man that the American League turned out last year."

Ban Johnson says the rowdy playing and unnecessary kicking in the American League must stop. If Griffith continues his tactics, displaying his temper as he has in the last few games, so that the umpire is compelled to put him out of the game, the American League president will take a hand by putting Grif out of the game for awhile. "This nonsense must be stopped," said Ban this morning. "Griffith seems to be overanxious just now and is acting badly. If he continues I'll have to put him under suspension for a few days until he calms down. I have had no official report from the Milwaukee games as yet, and, of course, shall not act until I hear from Connolly. Connolly is a good umpire and I think he is doing good work. We'll get things settled in a short time and there will be nothing to mar our games, I assure you, during the season. We won't stand for rowdy ball in our league—that's all there is to it."—Chicago Record-Herald

Junior Base Ball.

An interesting and exciting game of base ball was played between the Kenesaw Juniors and the Holmead Manor teams, resulting, after a hard-fought battle, in favor of the Kenesaws by 23 to 22. The work of the battery of the Kenesaws (Norris Mc-Lean, catcher; Norrls McDonald, pitcher) was the feature of the game. McLean played without an error and easily caught every man who attempted to steal second game postponed on account of rain.

Chairman Batchelder of N. C. A. Says Foreigners Want to Come to America. A. G. Batchelder, chairman of the board of control of the National Cycle Association, arrived in New York yesterday from Europe. In speaking of his trip Mr. Batchelder said: "If the N. C. A. desires to have the world's championships next year there should be little difficulty in obtaining the meet, as it is possible to count on enough votes in the International Cyclists' Union favorable to the American organization. Potomacs' Spring Regatta. The Potomac Boat Club will give its first regatta of the season Saturday, May 25, over the usual course, in front of its boat house. The details of the affair have not yet been definitely settled. The committee, consisting of President Doyle, Captain Daly and Lieutenants May and Hernan, will settle this early next week. It is likely that invitations will be extended to the Analostan and Georgetown University crews to enter the events. The Potomacs have determined to improve their club property at once, and the contract will be shortly given out, the outlay being about $500. The new eight-oared shell will arrive Monday and will be used first in the People's regatta July A at Phylladdelphia People's regatta, July 4, at Philadelphia, the junior crew wisely concluding to await that affair instead of trying the miserable course at New York again Memorial day. Twelve new members were elected at the last meeting.
